

CREW NEW YORK HOSTS POWERFUL WOMEN IN REAL ESTATE LUNCHEON

CREW New York's annual Powerful Women in Real Estate luncheon once again attracted an audience eager to hear about the successes of prominent women in the commercial real estate industry.

Panelists included: Crown Acquisitions COO Brittany Bragg; Hamlin Ventures president Abbey Hamlin; Blackstone Real Estate Group's senior managing director and COO Kathleen McCarthy; and G4 Capital Partners co-founder and managing principal Robyn Sorid. Lisa Knee, partner at EisnerAmper, served as moderator.

Among the developments discussed were Hamlin's conversion of 34 Prince Street and the Batcave; a conversion in Gowanus; Crown's joint venture with Steve Wynn of the retail space at the Wynn in Las Vegas; G4's involvement in a recapitalization of Roslyn Landing in Long Island; and Blackstone's interest in markets with "accelerated urbanization" including New York, Seattle and West L.A. The panelists also shared their tips for achieving success in the real estate industry.

CREW New York, a chapter of CREW Network with over 10,000 members, is dedicated to the advancement of professional women in real estate through networking, mentoring and education. CREW New York represents the full spectrum of commercial real estate disciplines. For more information, visit crewny.org.
